Enroll at Frankford High School to join Pennsylvania's First Solar CTE Program

Frankford High School is home to the only solar vocational training program in Philadelphia, the most advanced high school program of its kind in the country. Participants receive hands-on training in a growing field, paid summer internships, and job placement support.

Recruiting now!
Recruitment for the solar energy class is ongoing, with limited space remaining. Students who will be in 10th grade in Fall 2021 are eligible to sign up. Spots are filled on a first come, first served basis. Students must enroll at Frankford High School to participate.

Learn how to enroll by contacting Mr. Jordan Crolly (the Frankford Solar Teacher) at jcrolly@philasd.org.
